

SAFETY WARNINGS FOR CONSUMERS

Translation error in the instruction manual provided with the Chicco Hooplà (ref. 79840), Chicco Balloon (ref. 79282) and Chicco Pocket Relax (ref. 79825) reclined cradles

Rev. December 2017

A translation error has been found in the French section of the instruction manual provided with the Chicco Hooplà (ref. 79840), Chicco Balloon (ref. 79282) and Chicco Pocket Relax (ref. 79825) reclined cradles. According to the manual, the Chicco Hooplà, Balloon and Pocket Relax reclined cradles can be used as a seat (correct use) as well as a car seat (incorrect use). However it also says that the reclined cradle must never be used to transport children in a car.

Although no accidents have been reported, as a precaution and in keeping with its mission to guarantee maximum safety, Chicco has decided to replace the instruction manuals of the products currently on the market.

A new instructions manual is already available and can be identified as follows:

- Chicco Hooplà: reference number on the last page <<46 079840 000 000_1711 >> (the previous version has the reference number <<46 079840 000 000_1617 >>).
- Chicco Balloon: reference number on the last page <<46 079282 000 000_1624 >> (the previous version has the reference number <<46 079282 000 000_1617 >>).
- Chicco Pocket Relax: reference number on the last page <<46 079825 000 000_1716 >> (the previous version has the reference number <<46 079825 000 000_1617 >>);

If you have purchased one of the reclined cradles above, please contact our Customer Services directly or visit the "Contact" section of our website at www.chicco.com.

You will be sent a new instruction manual as soon as possible.

Our instruction manuals are available for download on our website.

We apologise in advance for any inconvenience caused and hope that you will understand our reasons for taking such precautions. The quality of our products is of paramount importance to us. Thank you for your cooperation.
